NEW HAMPSHIRE MAN MURDERED

William Jenkins of Barrington, N. H., Beaten With Whistle.

Barrington, Sept. 23.—In a lonely spot in this town, on what is called the new Bow Pond road, William Jenkins of Northwood is believed to have been murdered yesterday afternoon by his companion, Russ Brown. The body was found about an hour and a half after the murder, by John J. Perry and his wife of Stratford.

Thinking the man had been thrown from a wagon or had met with some accident, Mr. Perry drove to the home of Ed Otis, who lives a few hundred yards above the scene of the murder and started to tell Mr. Otis of the finding of the body, and was horrified to learn that Mr. Otis had already been informed by Frank Hill that Mr. Jenkins had been murdered by Brown.

It appears from what Hill has already told that Brown, Jenkins and himself had been at the fair, and had been drinking, and started for home in a team. When they reached this spot, about one mile from the Stratford line, Brown and Jenkins became involved in a dispute as to who should drive. All three alighted and Brown and Jenkins started to fight.

A BEAUTIFUL SIGHT.

Summit of Mount Mansfield Afforded the View Yesterday.

Summit House, Stowe, Sept. 22.—One of the finest views of snow and frost was had from the summit of Mt. Mansfield this morning. The clear atmosphere showed the tops of higher mountains over a wide territory glistening with snow and frost and the thermometer at the Summit House stood at 20 degrees above zero. The frost in the low lands killed all of the late crops and stopped the growth of all vegetation. The forests are fast assuming their brilliant autumn hues. Ice of considerable thickness has formed over the Lake of the Clouds and the mountain tops remained in the grasp of winter through out the day. It is not expected the snow will last long and the Summit House will remain open until the first of October.

GARDENS SUFFERED.

Snow and Frost in Vicinity of Chester Did Much Damage.

Chester, Sept. 22.—Unripe corn and garden produce in Windsor and Windham counties suffered this morning by a falling of the temperature to four degrees below freezing. In Windham county, there was a genuine snow squall lasting ten minutes. The plowed fields in this vicinity were covered with a quarter inch crust, and still water froze to an equal thickness.

Cold in Mountains.

Summit House, Mt. Washington, Sept. 23.—The thermometer went to eleven good test. Light snow fell and the Liquid level capped this morning, purifies them; midcent frost display, and polished surficial persons visited

SEN. PROCTOR SCORED BY STATE FEDERATION

Labor Delegates in Convention at Bel lows Falls Adopted Resolutions Condemning His Action.

The annual convention of the Vermont Branch, American Federation of Labor, which has been held at Bellows Falls this week has adjourned and the delegates from the Barre unions have returned to this city. The local delegates are beginning to think about the entertainment of the convention in Barre next fall, the convention having decided to come here. The convention did a large amount of business much of which was not made public. John W. Arvidson of Rutland was chosen as state organizer. No state delegate will be sent to the national convention of the Federation of Labor to be held in San Francisco the coming winter.

An important action taken at Bellows Falls was the passing of resolutions hostile to Senator Proctor. The resolutions were as follows:

Whereas, We deem the attitude assumed by Senator Proctor and the Vermont Marble company, of which he is president, toward organized labor as detrimental to the state and the wage earners in particular, and whereas he holds office by the suffrage of the people of the state of Vermont, therefore be it resolved:

That, We, the delegates of the state branch of the American Federation of Labor for the state of Vermont, in convention assembled, condemn the attitude of Senator Proctor and the Vermont Marble company, toward organized labor in the state of Vermont, and be it further resolved:

That, We, as representatives of the organized working men of the state, believing that we voice the sentiment of the rank and file of the laborers, do hereby protest against the future selection of any one connected with the Vermont Marble company to represent the people in any capacity.

Resolved, That a copy of the resolutions be sent to the governor of the state and to both houses of the General Assembly.

Alderman Stiles Who Was Forcibly Taken to Council Meeting.

Burlington, Sept. 23.—The jury in the case of Stiles vs. Graton and Watson returned a verdict yesterday afternoon for the plaintiff to recover $70 and costs. They were out four hours, which included the time occupied at dinner. The case will not be carried up, it is understood. The suit was brought for false imprisonment, growing out of the forcible action taken in causing Alderman Stiles to attend a special meeting of the Burlington city council.

James Ahearn's Annie A. took first premium for gentlemen's drivers at the Washington fair yesterday, making the third first she has captured during the two years, one at Washington last fall, the second at the Dog River Valley fair two weeks ago.

VERMONT BOY
WAS SHOTRoy Rockwell of Albany Probably Fatally Hurt

AT ROUSES PT. YESTERDAY

Is Now in the Mary Fletcher Hospital in Burlington, Where Little Hope Is Given That He Will Recover From Wound.

Rouses Point, N. Y., Sept. 22.—Roy Rockwell of Alburgh Center, Vt., pilot of the tug Defender, was shot and doubtless fatally injured at the Clinton House here about 12:15 this afternoon. The affair is completely shrouded in mystery and no one is able to secure a clear story.

One story is that Rockwell was at the hotel for dinner when the trouble began in the dining room and the men went from there to the office of the hotel, where the shooting took place. It is alleged that the 13-year-old son of Proprietor Phillips of the hotel did the shooting but it is not known whether it was intentional or not. One report is that Rockwell was attempting to take the revolver away from the young man when it was accidentally discharged.

William M. Rockwell, a brother of the man who was shot, was Rouses Point at the time but he cannot give any account of the affair. It is understood that he was not involved in the quarrel.

One report is that two shots were fired and another says three. The only thing known for certain is that Roy Rockwell was shot the bullet entering the left lung just over the heart and it is impossible to locate the bullet.

Rockwell came here this morning from his home in Alburgh Center, Vt., to take out the tug Defender of which he was pilot. Nothing is known as to how he spent the time previous to the fatal quarrel, nor who was the aggressor in the affair. Dr. J. D. Goodfellow and J. W. Hazen of Alburgh were notified and came about four o'clock this afternoon. The wounded man was taken on the evening train to Burlington, Vt., where he was to be taken to the Mary Fletcher hospital.

No arrests have been made yet and it is not known what action will be taken.

IN THE HOSPITAL.

Little Hope That He Will Recover From His Injuries.

Burlington, Sept. 23.—Roy Rockwell, who was shot at Rouses Point, arrived at this city on the 10:10 train over the Rutland-Canadian road last evening. He was taken to the Mary Fletcher hospital in the ambulance. Inquiry was made there early this morning as to his condition but the house surgeon refused to say anything about his condition or the location of the bullet.

Rockwell was accompanied by his brother, William M. Rockwell, J. W. Hazen and Dr. J. D. Goodfellow of Alburgh. After leaving him at the hospital the three men came to the Van Ness House, where they stayed over night.

Later J. W. Hazen of the party was seen. He could give no details of the shooting or quarrel as he was not in Rouses Point at the time. He said that they were given no hope that the condition of the man could recover and that he had been able to learn nothing about the cause of the shooting.

Roy Rockwell is the son of Sumner Rockwell of Alburgh, and is about 25 years old.

DESPONDENT AND TIRED,
DETERMINED TO DIE

Burlington Man Saved from Death After He Had Cut His Wrist and Leg

Neither Insane nor Drunk.

Burlington, Sept. 23.—Eubert Parrizo, a man 57 years old, made a desperate attempt to stab himself to death yesterday afternoon near St. Joseph's cemetery. He was discovered in time and will probably live, although he does not seem to care one way or another, and according to his own statement prefers to die. He seems to be a victim of morphine or some other kind of "dope."

Parrizo was discovered by Sexton Canning at the cemetery. The man was sitting on the grass bleeding profusely from a wound in his leg and a deep gash in his wrist. Mr. Canning at once procured help and Parrizo was taken to a nearby house where the blood was washed from his wounds which were bandaged at once and a physician sent for. The police were notified and the man was taken to the police office where he was given further medical attendance.

During all these proceedings Parrizo exhibited the utmost indifference. He told Chief Russell he wanted to die and was sorry the attempt he had made on his life was not successful.

"How could you stand the pain of stabbing yourself?" the chief asked him. "It was nothing to what I have to stand every day," Parrizo answered.

As Parrizo was neither drunk or insane the explanation of this reply is that his nerve is in a shattered state owing to his being a victim of a drug habit, a fact which was ascertained later.

Parrizo also said that he was discouraged, blue and sick of life.

He is a former resident of Burlington, but for a year has been living in Boston. He was divorced from his wife about eight years ago. She lives here now. He

A MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

Noted Passenger Was Not Injured, Nor Was J. Pierpont Morgan Who Was in His Party En Route to Washington.

East Brookfield, Mass., Sept. 23.—A special train, bearing the Archbishop of Canterbury and his party, including J. Pierpont Morgan, en route from Bar Harbor to Washington, collided here this morning head-on with a switch engine, while the former was running at a high rate of speed. None of the passengers was injured, but the engineer of the switch engine and the fireman of the special were more or less seriously hurt. The tender of the switching engine was thrown from the track, but neither the engine nor any of the cars was thrown from the track.

The special ran a quarter of a mile after hitting the other engine and stopped on the bridge over Seven Mile river, forty feet above the water. The battered switching engine was carried along by the special. The tender which was left behind scraped the passenger cars as they passed.

It was a miraculous escape from a terrible accident.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS MADE.

Sergeant-at-Arms Brock Getting State House in Shape.

Montpelier, Sept. 23.—Many improvements have been made at the State House in preparation for the convening of the legislature on October 5, and it is said that Sergeant-at-Arms Brock has expended $17,000, the amount including the costs of fuel, etc. It takes 200 tons of coal and 50 cords of wood to heat the building in two years. Every part of the building from garret to cellar has been renovated. Sergeant-at-Arms Brock has had 500 applications for 25 positions.

No Truth to Story.

H. E. Miller, superintendent of the St. Albans corn canning factory, was shown the item yesterday which stated the Northfield enters and huskers had gone on strike. He informed the representative that there was no truth to the strike part of it. While three carloads of corn arrived at this factory from Northfield yesterday and four more are expected tonight, it is owing to the fact that at the Northfield factory there is no stripping shed and the cold and rainy weather rendered it impossible for the strippers to handle the corn at that plant. Work will be resumed there as soon as weather conditions will permit.

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF.

Emmie, McLeod & Co. Win Suit Against McDonald, Cutler & Co.

Montpelier, Sept. 23.—The jury in the Emmie, McLeod & Co. suit against McDonald, Cutler & Co. returned a verdict for the plaintiff this afternoon. The verdict is to recover $394 and costs and interest.

also has a son in Pennsylvania. Yesterday Parrizo, disgusted with living, thought he would return to Burlington and do away with himself. He arrived on the night train and today sought a secluded spot and deliberately attempted suicide as above mentioned. The sexton's timely discovery prevented him from bleeding to death. The wounds were inflicted with a jack knife.

Parrizo will probably be kept in charge until his wounds are healed. He may be sent to some institution. The fact that he was disgusted with life was not because he was broke for he seemed to have plenty of money in his pocket.

THE FIRST SCRIMMAGE.

Goddard and North Barre Had a Go at Foot Ball Yesterday Afternoon.

The Goddard foot ball team lined up on the campus yesterday afternoon and played a lively practice game with the North Barre team which has been recently organized by the young foot ball enthusiasts residing in that part of the city. The North Barre boys' work against the Goddard team yesterday showed that they have good material for a strong team. Each team was given a try at rushing the ball and the defensive work on both sides appeared rather weak as neither had much trouble in gaining with the ball. This was the first time that Goddard has had a team to play against and much needed practice was secured out of the game. It would be a good thing if the teams would get together every night as neither has a second team to work against.

The line-up of the teams was as follows:

Goddard	No. Barre
Cannell.....full back.....	Jackson.....
Dunham.....left half.....	Duncan.....
Knapp.....right half.....	Rae.....
Booth.....left end.....	Beattie.....
Martin.....quarter.....	Dunbriskie.....
Brown.....right end.....	Lake.....

ANOTHER ARREST LIKELY

In Connection With the Murder of Charles McLane of Worcester Last Winter
Grand Jury Reports 21 Indictments.

Montpelier, Sept. 23.—Willard Ainsworth and Hollis Heath, who were arrested last February on suspicion in connection with the murder of Charles McLane of Worcester, were released this forenoon, fifteen minutes after the report of the Washington county grand jury had been received, the jury failing to find indictments against them. Sensational developments are expected as it is rumored that a man who has previously been mentioned in connection with the murder will be arrested. This man's name is of course withheld. The arrest will be made as the result of the findings of the grand jury.

Ainsworth and Heath, both young men, were released this forenoon, after having been penned up in the Washington county jail for eight months. They came out of the jail smiling and lost little time in starting for their homes in the woods of Worcester. They were arrested soon after the body of McLane, a woodsman, was found in his rude shack in an out-of-the-way section. His head was badly battered as if he had been pounded with clubs. The murder of McLane was committed on a Saturday, it is supposed. The body was not found until the following Monday. Suspicion pointed to Ainsworth and Heath because they were carried to a place within a short distance of McLane's house, by Charles Corry when he returned from a visit to Montpelier. As the result of the investigation started by State's Attorney Seater the two men were held pending the sitting of the grand jury which has just now completed its work and reported its findings. Now they are free men. They stated when leaving Montpelier today that they intended to go back to work in Worcester.

The Findings of the Grand Jury.

The grand jury reported 21 indictments this forenoon and five not found. Of the five not found two were against Heath and Ainsworth. A third was against Amanda Quebec who was bound over from the Montpelier city court on the charge of larceny.

She was also released today. There are eight prisoners remaining in the county jail, and it is supposed that indictments were found against them. They are Levi Sim, charged with larceny, R. Savator, assault with intent to kill Conductor Henry of the electric road, James Sweet, larceny, Henry Gilbert, breaking and entering, Myron Ainsworth, and Hiram Warren, charged with rape, George Darling, larceny, and Patrick Sheehan, larceny. Ainsworth and Warren were arrested Wednesday afternoon of this week and the cases against them were the last ones considered by the grand jury. It was for them that the grand jury did not report when it expected to do so last Wednesday.

TO MAKE ARREST.

Deputy Lackey of Montpelier Left This Afternoon for Worcester.

Montpelier, Sept. 23.—Deputy Sheriff Lackey left this afternoon and it is reported that he has gone to Worcester to arrest a man indicted by the grand jury on the charge of murdering Charles McLane.
